GRAFT RUMORS START IWILEI VICE INVOLVED

Report Federal Grand Jury Will Probe Charges Womer Were Made To "Give Up" $15 Each—Temporary Closing Of District Starts Stories

Sensational charges that graft-money has been recently collected from women of the Iwilei vice-district will be brought to the attention of a new federal grand jury that was sworn in today, according to reports that have been going the rounds since yesterday and which became stronger this morning when the grand jury was impaneled.

The charges of graft have been aloft for three days, or since last Saturday, and the whole host of rumors, mostly vague but in some cases startlingly definite, grew out of the "leakage" of Iwilei for eight days by the police, at the instance, according to police officials, of the U. S. district attorney's department.

This latest turn in the reeking tide of affairs at Iwilei developed, according to information received by the Star-Bulletin from a number of sources, after complaint had been made to the police and district attorney's department by one or more of the pineapple canneries on the edge of the Iwilei section.

Complaints from Canneries. These complaints on behalf of the young women employed in the canneries were taken, says the report, before the federal grand jury, and then followed the action of the authorities in temporarily "closing" Iwilei. According to the police, they received their orders from the United States authorities.

The "district" was closed on Friday, November 8, and remained closed for eight days. In the meantime, the inmates of the houses of ill-fame in the section are said to have scattered all over the city.

Those who have been trying to handle the difficult social evil problem here realize, it is said, the necessity of removing the district at once from the fast-growing manufacturing and canning section of the city. But up to the present time no other city has been so closed, and the authorities, it appears, thought it advisable to allow the district to re-open temporarily under as strict police supervision as could be enforced, and with some changes in buildings so that decent families would not be thrown into al-

W. A. KINNEY REPORTED TO HAVE GONE EAST IN HURRY

New Angle on Governorship Situation Affords No Light to People Here

Attorney W. A. Kinney, the news of whose early coming to Honolulu has started a multitude of rumors that he might be a receptive candidate for Governor under the Democratic administration, is not coming to Honolulu soon, according to information received by the Star-Bulletin today from its San Francisco correspondent.

The Star-Bulletin yesterday instructed its correspondent to reach Mr. Kinney in San Francisco, where he was reported to be staying, and secure from him, if possible, a statement on the governorship situation.

In reply this morning came the following by Federal Wireless Telegraph day service:

"Kinney gone East; left Saturday." Mr. Kinney's law partners here have not heard of any sudden move he has made, it was stated today, and are in some doubt as to his exact whereabouts. It was understood that he intended to come to Honolulu in two or three weeks.

CONSTANTINOPLE IS SAVED

HAOU TEACHER QUITS; GUILT IS ADMITTED

School Scandal at Hana Is Aired Before Board of Instruction

His resignation demanded because of discovery of alleged improper relations with a young schoolgirl, John A. M. deiros, principal of the Haou school, Haou, Maui, declared in a letter to Superintendent of Instruction Pope that other teachers in the department have been found guilty of similar charges, but that they, as a rule, have been given another chance.

The shake-up in the Haou school caused by the enforced resignation of Maderios was the cause of a row in the department that came to light this afternoon at the meeting of the commissioners of public education.

Not only the correspondence of the department relating to Maderios and his alleged offense was placed on file and made public but full correspondence on the light in the department led by Superintendent Principal R. A. Drummond of Hana. Mr. Drummond it appears from the correspondence, opposed the plan of the department and of Superintendent Pope to send Miss Jennie Plant from Hana to take the place left vacant by the departure of Mrs. Maderios. Mrs. Maderios was to succeed to Miss Plant's place in Hana. Drummond declared he would not stand for this and after much exchange of correspondence, Mr. Pope decided to bring the matter before the commissioners of education.

Made public also was the letter that furnished conclusive proof to the department of Maderios' illicit relations with the girl. This letter was written from Hana on September 30 of this year and is unmistakable in its revelations of the guilty bond between the teacher and the girl, who left Hana to attend school elsewhere. Repeatedly in the letter the teacher warned the girl to destroy the missive asking her at the end to mail the letter back to him so that he could "destroy it."

"Nice, Soft, Pink Heart"
"I think I have a nice, soft pink heart," he said and apparently he had from the many expressions of burning love he poured out over the pages. The improper relations of the two having been discovered the department called for Maderios' resignation. Resigning in a brief letter to the department, Maderios sent a longer letter to Pope, in which he said:

"It is with regret that I resign as principal of the Haou school. The mistake has been my first and the blow that the department has delivered is a very hard one. Still I admit I am guilty and am willing to take the punishment. Other teachers have been found guilty of similar charges but they (as a rule) have been given a chance to reform by either being transferred or suspended for some time. I am not finding fault with the department's decision, but at least it should have given me a chance to make good, for I can assure you that this will never happen again."

Following the resignation of Maderios from the principalship of the Haou school, new difficulties arose in

MAYBE BOURBONS WON'T PLUCK SUCH A RICH PLUM AFTER ALL

Organic Act May Step in to Balk Their Promised Patronage

Republican experts on the Organic Act and Hawaii's plan of office holding are prophesying that the Democrats who figure on heavy political patronage for a Democratic governor in spread around, are in line for bitter disappointment.

Prominent Republicans hold that if Frear should be reappointed by Taft and confirmed by the Senate, and should forthwith appoint what Territorial officials come up for choice by him, these officials cannot be removed, even should Frear cease to hold the selection of a substitute. Superintendent Pope, after some correspondence, finally decided on the transfer of Miss Jennie Plant, from the Hana school, to Haou, and having Mrs. Maderios, wife of the resigned principal, remove to Hana, taking Miss Plant's place.

Immediately Superintendent R. A. Drummond, verbally, and by letter to Superintendent Pope, voiced indignation against the change, and in a letter to the superintendent, under date of November 3, says:

"I am very sorry to inform you that we are not going to swallow any dose which the Board of Education is going to give us, this in regard to Miss Plant, who is transferred from the Hana school to Haou, we are not going to stand for this kind of teachers as principals for our school. If you think she is good enough for the Haou school you better transfer her as principal of the Normal school."

"The district of Hana has been in a deplorable condition in regards to education. The children will not go to school to any teacher as Miss Plant for principal. Mr. Pope, I wish you to send another principal here, and Miss Plant can be her assistant; no objection will be made."

"My object in fighting this kind of teachers which are able to pass examination for teacher; then you wish office, unless the Democratic governor could get the consent of the Republican senate of 1913 in his efforts to remove them.

And, of course, the party men figure that the Republican senate would refuse to aid the Democratic Governor in ousting good Republicans.

The case of ex-Governor Carter and Judge Kepolani was pointed to this morning by a Republican leader as being in point. He said that it was proved at that time that Carter could not remove a Territorial official at his pleasure, hence the famous system he inaugurated of "undated resignations."

Under the Organic Act, the Governor appoints, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, the following officers: public lands, commissioner of agriculture and forestry, superintendent of public works, superintendent of public instruction, auditor, deputy auditor, surveyor, high sheriff, etc., and by and with the advice and consent of the senate, he may remove any of the officials.

Prominent Democrats have been taking the attitude that the incoming Governor may make a clean sweep of the appointive Territorial offices if he so wishes.

Some of the Republicans have been discussing the advisability of urging Delegate Kubie to aid in securing the confirmation of Frear in the United States Senate, so that, according to the theory advanced above, he may make appointments of the Republicans to hold office during the next administration and thus secure the patronage for Republicans.

to make us believe that she is competent to teach our children. If you don't listen to this warning there will be something doing.

"We will bring this matter before the board of supervisors and our country attorney and then let it go as it may. I wish to avoid any quarrel if it can be helped."

Immediately following this fiery epistle came a letter from W. W. Taylor, supervising principal at Kipahulu, Maui, under date of Nov. 12, in which he says that on visiting the Haou school he found a large number of the children not attending school, and that Drummond, exercising his influence as a road supervisor, with many of the men of the district working under his direction, was virtually conducting a boycott on the school because he was opposed to Miss Plant as principal. He also states that John Maderios intended visiting the superintendent shortly with a view to pleading for re-instatement in the Department.

He said that the impression was gaining ground that he—Taylor was the cause of the trouble but he was willing that should be the case, if he could save Mrs. Maderios, for whom he had deep respect and whom he felt was undergoing great torture as the result of these affairs which made her an innocent victim.

On November 15, Superintendent Pope wrote Principal Taylor that Miss Plant was to continue to hold her appointment at Haou until the commissioners had met and the subject definitely decided upon. On the same day he wrote Principal Drummond to the same effect, adding that Miss Plant is well qualified for the work, having passed the examination in every subject but one, before being given her first position at Hana.

The board meeting began this morning with two members present: Mrs. B. D. Bond, of Kohala, appointed to represent West Hawaii, and W. R. Farrington, one of the two commissioners from Oahu. The third member, Attorney W. H. Smith, at present is attending court at Kona; temporarily serving as assistant county attorney for the island of Hawaii, and his acceptance of the appointment as as-

BALKAN ALLIES PERMIT RETENTION OF THE CITY

Small Strip Of Land On The European Coast Is Also Included In The Things Left To The Once Great Ottoman Empire—Armistice Of Eight Hours Granted By Allies To Allow Foes To Bury Their Heaped-up Dead

(Special Star-Bulletin Cable)

CONSTANTINOPLE, November 18.—Information has reached here that the allies have at last made public the terms upon which they are willing to grant peace. According to the information reaching here, the diplomacy of Turkey and the intervention of the Powers have succeeded in securing for the Ottoman Empire the continued possession of this city, as well as strip of land on the European side of the straits. These terms, it is stated, have been made public by the Foreign Ministry in Berlin.

Eight hours armistice was granted by the allies earlier in the day in order that both sides might have an opportunity to bury their dead, many of which have been lying in the open fields for several days.

Allies Agree To Armistice

(Associated Press Cable)

LONDON, November 18.—Efforts are being made by the representatives of the Powers to get the allies to agree to the armistice. The allies are unwilling to offer Turkey as a basis for peace. It is reported that the terms as outlined at present are almost sure to prevent any cessation of hostilities.

Efforts will also be made to restrain the German-Austrian forces in the hope of avoiding further trouble even if the proposed armistice between the allies and the Ottoman fails to the ground and the war continues.

Powers Seek To Soften Terms

(Associated Press Cable)

SOFIA, Bulgaria, November 18.—It was announced here this morning that the allies have agreed to the Turkish proposal to discuss the terms of an armistice at once. It is understood here that this means that the ultimate terms of the peace between the contestants will probably be decided at the same time, or within a short period thereafter.

Maniac And Dynamite Empty A Los Angeles Hospital

(Associated Press Cable)

LOS ANGELES, November 18.—Branding a box containing 15 sticks of high percentage dynamite, a mad man today terrorized the police headquarters here and emptied the emergency hospital in the jail of its patients and nurses.

The maniac entered the emergency hospital without being seen and the first notice that any one had of him was when he ordered one of the nurses to stand still, and threatened to blow him to heaven if he moved. The emergency hospital is in part of the police headquarters building, and after driving the patients and nurses out of the hospital, the crowd rushed into the front of the structure and threatened the police officials in their offices. For two hours no one dared go near him, and finally, when the situation became intolerable, one of the detectives managed to distract his attention, and felled him with a blow on the head.

As he fell forward the box flew out of his hand toward the floor. The detective springing forward was just in time to catch it and prevent an explosion that would have destroyed the building and all within it.

The maniac is now in the hospital, still unconscious. No one has been able to identify him.

Drop Charge Against Pug

CHICAGO, Illinois, November 18.—The charge of abduction laid at the door of Jack Johnson, the champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, by Lucile Cameron, was dismissed in open court today. The charge was the first of the number now pending against the champion.

Teddy's Assailant Insane

(Special Star-Bulletin Cable)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., November 18.—John Flammang Schrank, who shot ex-President Roosevelt, as the latter was about to deliver an address in this city during the recent campaign, was today declared insane, by a lunacy commission, which has been investigating his case.

School commissioner reached the Governor only this morning.

Superintendent Pope read a brief report of the educational situation, reviewing the work of the new school year to date. It showed that there are 161 public schools in active operation attended by 24,027 pupils, with an average of about thirty-six pupils per teacher. The October payroll of instructors amounted to $48,426.99, although the department is entitled to use $49,590 in monthly salaries.

He stated that about $500 a month
